

TRIAL OF BOY CONSPIRATOR HALTED BY SMALLPOX CASE

Marietta Courtroom, Jammed to Doors, Quickly Empties at Report

HELD WITH MOTHER

Charges Is They Planned Fathers Death for Money.

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 26.—Common pleas court rooms here were cleared in record time today and a panic was narrowly averted when it was discovered that Harry Gourley, 17-year-old son of Mrs. Carrie Gourley, charged with conspiring to kill her husband, was a victim of smallpox.

Hundreds of persons had jammed the courtroom, corridors and stairs of the courthouse for admission to hear the beginning of the sensational trial, but when the word was passed around that young Gourley had smallpox, the courtroom was cleared instantly.

Judge David H. Thomas, who was sitting on the bench to hear the Gourley case, adjourned court immediately after he had been notified by county and city health officials that the boy's illness had been diagnosed as smallpox.

Gourley is jointly indicted with his mother for the shooting of his father, George Gourley, world war veteran. He has been nursed in his cell in the last three months.

Charles Whiting shot George Gourley in the doorway of the Gourley home last Thanksgiving eve, according to the charges against the accused trio. He made an alleged confession that conspiracy to murder Gourley was hatched by Mrs. Gourley.

Whiting declared that he, as the trigger man, was to be paid out of Gourley's life insurance, according to the alleged confession.

Convicted of shooting with intent to kill, Whiting was recently sent to the penitentiary to serve a term of from one to 20 years.

Gourley, whose left arm was shot off, recovered and has employed attorneys to defend his wife and son. He has accepted as true their denial to him that they were involved in the shooting.

DO YOU KNOW?

Edwin Lee Daley?

OUT fifteen years 'round Circleville.
Has "Abe" or Ed been set.
That he was not here years before
It seems folks all regret.
He's supervisor here of schools,
It seems his one idea
Is see that kids get knowledge—
Especially 'jography'.

Before Abe got in school work—
Bout ten years back—or more.

He farmed a bit, and also kept
A right smart grocery store.
He's six foot, slender, rugged,
Easy to see by gum,
(Because he's just that type of man)

Where nickname "Abe" came from.

He likes to take long auto trips
Around the broad U. S.

Just proving up on 'jography'—
Me and some others guess.

A Methodist, Rotarian,
And Mason too it's known.

Abe married?—Does a right smart
job

STATE SENATE RETURNS, FINDS MORE TROUBLE

Appointment of Hopple to Utilities Commission to Be Fought, Report

PROGRAM IS READY

Democrats to Vote Against Commission Proposal

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26.—With its hands full of controversial matters, such as taxation and the confirmation of Gov. George White's selection of Thomas A. Edmonson of Urbana, as state director of industrial relations, Ohio's legislature returned to its work today to find a new battle brewing.

Opposition has cropped out to the recent appointment of Gov. White of Edward J. Hopple, Democrat, of Cleveland, as a member of the state utilities commission and indications were today as the legislators began arriving in town for the resumption of general assembly sessions tonight that anti-Hopple sentiment will find definite form in the Senate chambers.

The editorial columns of a local newspaper today carried an accusation that "in his first appointment to the public utilities commission, Gov. White has chosen a man sponsored by utilities corporations."

SUCCEEDS KLINGER
Hopple, a former speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives and former member of the state senate, was selected by Gov. White to succeed Judge William Klinger of Lima, also a Democrat, who early next month goes on the Allen-co appellate court bench.

Hopple's name, along with those of Dr. Harry G. Southward, Marysville, for state health director, and L. L. Faris of Highland, for state prohibition commissioner, will be given to the Senate tonight for confirmation.

Although no definite move had been made to oppose Hopple's confirmation, it was believed possible, and probable, that in view of newspaper criticism at least some inquiry will be made into the matter.

A heavy program faces the state's legislature this week. Outstanding among the problems is the bugaboo of taxation.

Governor White publicly rejected the proposal of G. O. P. senators that the Taft joint resolution providing for appointment of six legislators to draft taxation measures be enlarged by the selection of three additional committeemen by the governor.

COLON IS SWEEPED BY BLAZE TODAY

GOVERNORS OF SEVEN STATES IN CONFERENCE

Exhaustive Study of Unemployment Insurance Thought on Program

WHITE IS PRESENT

Some See Meeting as Good Political Move

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 26.—An exhaustive study of unemployment insurance as a means of combating future industrial depressions will be made by seven leading industrial states of the east as a result of a decision reached at the conference of governors at Albany it was learned today.

The states which will participate, are New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Ohio.

In deciding to conduct a thorough study of unemployment insurance, the governors or their representatives from the eastern states, made it plain they had not committed themselves or their states to any attempt to put such a plan into effect, but that they believed it deserved careful study.

Governor Roosevelt, who called the conference in Albany is known to believe unemployment insurance is inevitable if suffering and distress are to be avoided in case of future depression.

The first step in the study of this subject will be taken at a meeting of the representatives of the seven states in New York City at a time to be fixed by Roosevelt.

In addition to a study of unemployment insurance the governors decided to send representatives of their industrial and tax departments to a conference shortly in Pennsylvania, where an effort will be made to make labor and corporate tax laws of the seven states more uniform.

The governors believe that if labor and corporate tax laws of eastern states can be equalized presentation competition between states for new industries will be eliminated to a large extent.

A special study also will be made of public and private employment agencies.

URBANA GAS RATE IS CUT

Newspaper Says Ohio Fuel Gas to Lower Rate During Depression Period.

The Urbana Press says that the Ohio Fuel & Gas Co., operating in that city as well as this, is likely to reduce its gas rates in that city 20 percent, back to a former rate and to make refunds to customers to Nov. 3 when the new rates allowed by ordinance became effective.

The gas company is likely to allow the old rates to remain in force indefinitely until the period of depression is ended.

The Urbana paper makes its statement after an interview with two officials of the company from the Springfield offices.

The branch of the Ohio Fuel Gas here last week presented a new schedule of rates which would go into effect in March if council endorses it.

BUCYRUS IS QUIET

Ohio City To Let Law Take Course After Murder of Sheriff By Negroes.

BUCYRUS, O., Jan. 26.—Satisfied to let the law take its course, in avenging the murder, the citizenry of Crawford-co today joined in paying tribute to Sheriff George Danenport, who was slain during a raid for chicken thieves early Saturday.

Calmed after a week-end of unrest, crowds which staked a near riot Saturday night, milling about the county jail and threatening to lynch two negroes held for the murder of Danenport, today prepared to accord the sheriff full military honors at his funeral this afternoon.

Services were to be held at the home of Danenport's mother, Mrs. J. Rossell Davenport. Hundreds of persons were expected to be present at the funeral of the sheriff who was one of the most popular in the history of the county.

Meanwhile authorities began preparations for the prosecution of Walter and Blanton Ralls for the murder. The case of the two negroes will be considered by a special session of the county grand jury Thursday, January 29.

Sheriff Davenport was shot when he attempted to arrest Elijah Walter and Blanton Ralls at their home in Crestline on charges of stealing chickens. Elijah Ralls was killed by a bullet in the head when he tried to escape from the county jail, where he and his brothers were being questioned concerning the sheriff's murder.

CASH PAYMENT OF MONEY FOR VETS INDORSED

American Legion Executive Commission Unanimous for Move

MELLON IS OPPOSED

Sen. Smoot to Conduct Hearing in Congress

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 26.—The national executive committee of the American Legion today had on record a resolution, adopted unanimously, indorsing immediate cash retirement of adjusted service certificates of veterans of the World War.

In the resolution it was pointed out that immediate distribution of these funds would relieve present economic conditions.

The resolution said: "There is little doubt but that the immediate distribution and circulation of funds accruing and payable fifteen years hence from conversion would at this time materially assist in the relief of present distressful economic conditions, and put new life into American business and would without any doubt whatsoever bring immediate relief to the hundreds of thousands of veterans and their dependents who are now in sore distress and dire need."

"The national executive committee of the American Legion indorses the principle of immediate cash retirement, on application, of the adjusted service certificates, without choosing as between any of the specific bills now pending before Congress, it being the opinion of the national executive committee that the passage of such legislation would benefit immeasurably, not only the veterans themselves, but the citizenship of the entire country, and would be an appropriate demonstration of the action who carried its arms in 1918 and 1919."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Growing demand of World War veterans for payment in cash of the face value of their adjusted compensation certificates, caused the senate finance committee today to begin hearings on the proposal.

The committee has before it bills by Senators Brookhart (R.) of Iowa; Vandenberg (R.) of Michigan; Dill (D.) of Washington, and Barkley (D.) of Kentucky.

MELLON AGAINST
Chairman Smoot (R.) of Utah, will conduct the hearings. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, in an exchange of correspondence with Vandenberg, came out flatly against the suggestion, principally on the ground that the treasury's financing arrangements would be adversely affected.

Proponents of the plan declare the veterans need the money to alleviate their distress, and that business would be stimulated by putting approximately three billion dollars in circulation.

CHILLI. QUINT TOO FAST FOR TIGER OUTFIT

Young's Crew's Offense Is Smooth In Second Half of 35-19 Contest.

BY PAT KIRWIN

Grabbing a nice lead at the beginning of the last half, and continuing to drop goals through the bucket from all corners of the floor, Coach Young's Chillicothe Red Devils defeated the Red and Black Tigers in Chillicothe Saturday night by the score of 35 to 19. Coach Herberholz's boys played a nice ball during the first half, and at the half time the score was only 15 to 9, with Chilli leading.

Red and Black cagers started off fine, sinking buckets just as often as the Youngmen, and at the end of the first period the score was 6 all, but the same play was not continued. Before long, Hughes and Blankenship of the Red Devils were hitting the hoop, from the foul line, and thus gained the six point lead, which they sustained at the end of the half. During the first half the Herberholz-coached lads worked a nice offense play down the floor, and Purcell, White and Radcliff, each netted a bucket.

The Tigers entered the last half, with plenty of pep, and determination but the same Chilli scorers, Hughes, Blankenship, with the aid of Holmes, were working like clockwork. The Ross-co boys continued their fast stepping and doubled the score on the locals, who were only able to net two more points, during the third quarter, when the score stood 22-11.

The last session was the biggest scoring period for the locals, who added eight more points to their score. Purcell, White and Davis hit the hoop for a goal each. White and Davis also each had a free throw.

The floor boundaries seemed to more or less bother the local cagers, as quite a number of times, a Tiger would heave a long pass down the line, in the direction of another player, and it would hit the wall, and then be given to Chillicothe, who would run a man in under the bucket and sink a goal.

Tom Jones of Columbus refereed the tilt.

Next Friday, the Tigers trek to Grandview, in an attempt to enter a tie in first place in Central Buckeye League.

BUSY WEEK FOR O. S. U.

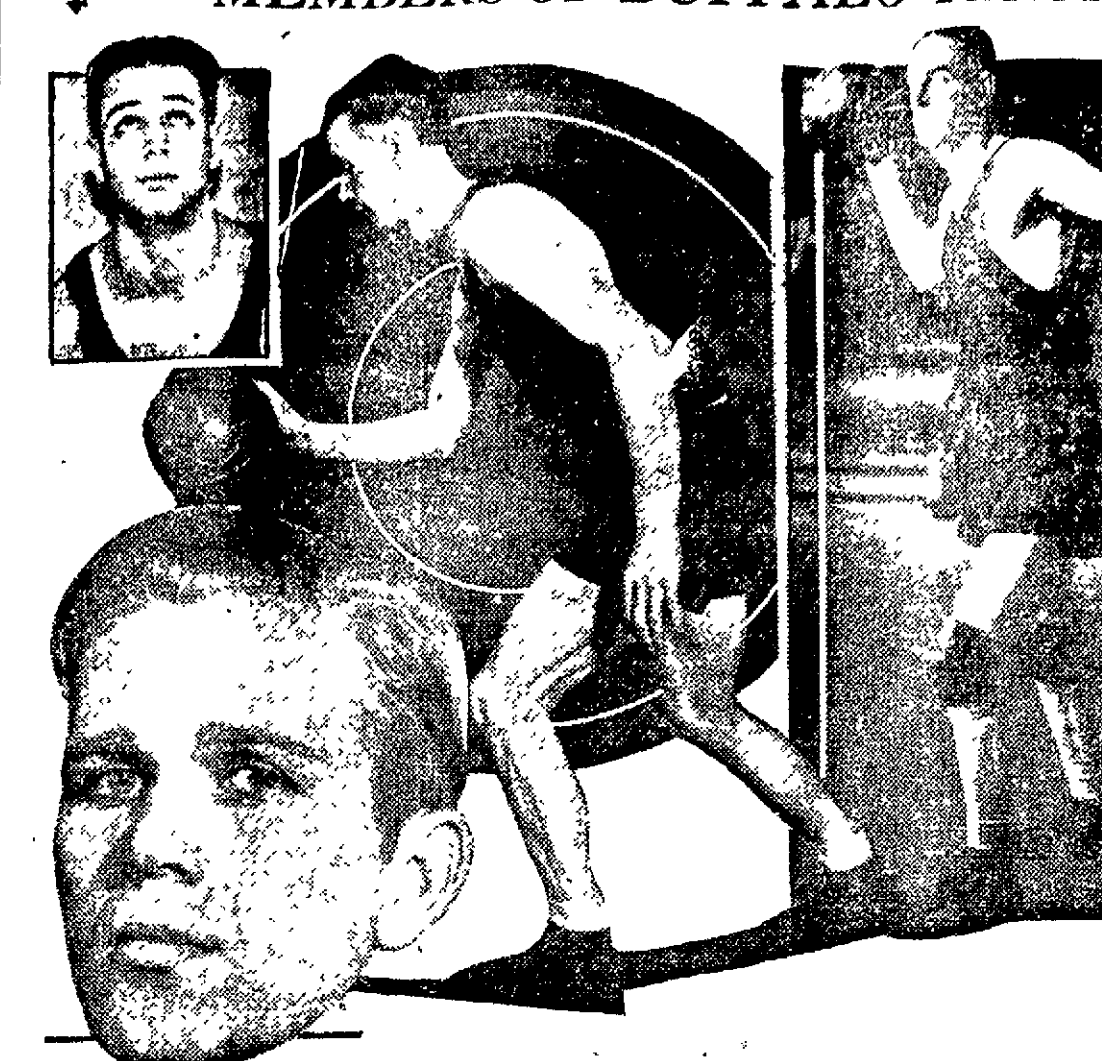

Michigan, Army and Columbia On Schedule For Cagers All Away.

COLUMBUS, O.,—Four basketball games, besides swimming, wrestling, fencing and gymnastic meets and four rifle matches are booked for Ohio State athletes this week.

The Ohio State-Michigan basketball game Monday night at Ann Arbor is the last Western Conference battle for the Buckeyes until February 16 when Chicago comes here. The Ohio State quintet plays Army at West Point Saturday night and meets Columbia's five next Monday. While the varsity is away, the Buckeye "B" team will play the Columbus Y. M. C. A. squad here Wednesday night and Bluffton Saturday night.

Buckeye matman will match holds here Saturday with grapplers from Purdue, while the swimming squad has its lone 1931 Western Conference engagement against University of Chicago swimmers at Chicago. Telegraphic rifle matches are scheduled against the teams of University of Cincinnati, Wyoming, Oklahoma A. & M. and Washington University. Fencing and gymnastic matches against teams of the University of Michigan will be run off Friday.

MEMBERS OF BUFFALO TEAM

Above are four of the regular members of the Rochester Central basketball team which plays here Thursday evening in the feature of the Circleville Athletic Club court season.

Cooper in the upper left hand corner plays any position on the team but is more at home at forward; Carr is the regular center, he is seen dropping in the lower left corner is Whitey Smith, a great guard, and passing the ball is McNeil another guard and one of the classiest players in western New York.

RESERVE FIVE DROPS GAME

Chillicothe Subs Pile Up Big First Half Lead In 35-16 Game Saturday.

Lack of experience, together with tough opposition proved to much for Circleville high school reserves, in a preliminary to the Chillicothe-Tigers encounter at the former gym Saturday night, and the locals bowed to a 35 to 16 defeat.

Chillicothe lads began scoring early in the game and continued. Smith and Griffith each dropped a goal through the bucket during the first half, which were the only points the locals scored, and the score was 23 to 4.

A versatile defense of Chillicothe kept the Red and Black lads from netting points in the first half of the game.

During the last part of the game the Herberholz men added a dozen more points to their score. Davis contributed a couple goals, followed by Rader and McClure, who each netted a bucket. McClure also completed three free throws and Hitchcock one.

Coppel, Myers and Lee of the opposition continued on their rampage, and hit the hoop from all corners, and when the gun for game sounded they had accounted for all 35 points.

THIRD BASE IS CLUBS' WORRY

Only Six of Hot-Corner Guardians of Last Year To Be At Old Posts.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Of the sixteen men who played third base for the major league teams during all or the greater part of last season, only six are certain to hold down the hot corner assignment this year.

Three old reliables will be on the job in each league, they are Pie Traynor of the Pirates, Pinky Whitney of the Phillies, Wally Gibbert of Brooklyn, Jimmy Dyke of the Athletics, Ossie Blauge of Washington, and Marty McManus of Detroit.

The boldest experiment will be made by John McGraw of the Giants. Mac will start Johnny Vergez, a recruit from Oakland, Calif., at third and send Freddy Lindstrom to the outfield where a right-handed batsman of ability is needed.

Sam Bredon of the Cardinals, who tried in vain to get Traynor, Lindstrom or Whitney in a trade, will give Eddie Delker, Rochester recruit, every chance to supplant the veteran Sparky Adams at the hot corner. Delker was all last summer and did not get a real tryout with St. Louis.

If Lester Bell's dead arm can be revived, he will play third base for the Cubs and Woody English will be shifted back to shortstop.

Dan Howley will be playing checkers with his Cincinnati infield, Joe Stripp, who can play first, second or third, will be relieved of his first base duties by Mickey Heath, obtained from Hollywood. It has not been decided whether Stripp or Tony Cucinello will be at third base.

Charley Wilson, utility infielder from Rochester, and Walter Dressen, from Springfield, will give chunky little Buster Chatham plenty of competition for the third base job on the Boston Braves.

In the American league, the release of Joe Sewell leaves a gap at Cleveland's hot corner which will be filled by Ralph Winegarner, George Detore or Johnny Burnett.

Willie Kamm, once without a superior at third base, is in the bad graces of Donnie Bush, manager of the White Sox, and may be replaced by Chalmers Cissell, who previously played at shortstop and second base. The Sox certainly ought to get a lot of third basing out of this pair, because their purchase set the club back $223,600, enough to buy a whole team.

Third base experiments made late in the 1930 season will be continued by St. Louis and New York with Ralph Kress playing the bag for the Browns and Lazzeri for New York. Kress originally was a short stop and Lazzeri a second baseman.

Shano Collins, new pilot of the Boston Red Sox, was decided to try Jack Rothrock, outfielder and general handy man, at third base. Three men were alternated at the position last season without success.

Mrs. A. P. Stout and son Robert of Columbus visited friends here Sunday.

WILDCATS FAR IN LOOP LEAD

Northwestern Defeats Ohio State While Michigan Drubs Chicago 5.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Northwestern University's undefeated basketball five was well out in front today in the race for the western conference pennant. With four victories and no defeats the Purple machine was a step and a jump ahead of the closest rival, Indiana, a team that has three victories and one defeat thus far.

Only two games will be played this week due to an examination day. Ohio meets Michigan tonight at the latter's floor and Chicago meets Minnesota Saturday at Minneapolis.

Saturday night Michigan slaughtered the undefeated Chicago quintet by a 41 to 15 stroke and Northwestern kept its record clear by whipping Ohio State 35 to 22.

rean of collecting and interchanging of information and statistics regarding unemployment among the seven states was approved by the governors. An effort will be made to have the proposed clearing house set up by the Yale school of human relations.

The capital today professed to see a shrewd political move on the part of Governor Roosevelt in calling the conference of eastern executives. It was pointed out that if, as a result of the conference, definite steps are taken to guard against future unemployment, it would redouble Roosevelt's advantage in the event he should become a Democratic presidential candidate next year.

ERIC GANDRUP

Here are the five veteran players of the Ohio Wesleyan basketball team which is setting the pace in the Buckeye conference. The Bishops are undefeated in the conference title race and have completed their Buckeye schedule. They have defeated each of the other member schools, Ohio, Miami, Denison and Cincinnati.

Eric Gandrup, Rocky River forward, is probably the most feared player in the conference. He has been so closely guarded this year that he has scored few field goals but his play has been a big factor in the success of the Bishops.

Howard Ginaven, Springfield, has been shifted from guard to forward this season with excellent results. He is an accurate shot and has accounted for many of Ohio Wesleyan's points in recent games. A third junior letterman is Vincent Schubert, Sandusky, who is playing at center and forward.

Quido Facchini, Alliance, a senior is the most experienced player on the Bishop squad. He is a guard. Donald Malone, Cleveland, another senior, is being used either as a guard or a forward.

These veterans are strongly reinforced by stellar sophomores including Wilmer Dickerson, Adena guard; George Myerly, Danville Pa., center; Harold Duncan, Cleveland Heights, forward; and Lavern Bolton, Highland Park, Mich., forward.

PING-PONG NOW POPULAR SPORT

A new game, and a popular one, too, has found its way into Circleville. Ping-pong is being played at Bill Hamilton's miniature golf course under the C. A. C. gym and from the number of players who have been battling the shell back and forth for the past few days, it looks like the game is going to develop into real entertainment.

Two tables have been installed at the miniature course by Mr. Hamilton and Sunday, both were busy from the time the place was open until it closed.

YOUTH WINS GOLF HONOR

Ralph Guldahl of Texas Defeats Tony Manero to Win Motion Picture Prize.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 26.—By winning the motion picture charity match play open golf tournament, Ralph Guldahl, youthful Texan, today was in possession of his first major title since turning professional a year ago.

In one of the finest and closest battles ever staged on a California course, Guldahl defeated Tony Manero, New York, one up, at the thirty-sixth green.

Guldahl drew down the $1,000 purse as the winner and Manero took the $800 as the runner-up.

To reach the finals, Guldahl defeated MacDonald Smith, Joe Kirkwood, Olin Durta and Fred Morrison.

Guldahl carded a 148 and Manero was one stroke higher for the 36 holes.

STATE SENATE

Democratic senators, it was indicated today, will seek to defeat the resolution when it comes to a vote on the floor of the Senate, unless the proposal that the governor select three additional members is eliminated.

Another important controversial matter will come to a head this week when the Senate labor committee resumes its hearing relative to the protests of union labor leaders against confirmation by the Senate of Gov. White's appointment of Edmondson as state director of industrial relations. The protestants claim that Edmondson is not a "labor" man and that this position should be given to a labor representative.

Pending legislative measures are expected to pass the 300 mark this week. To date, 181 bills have been introduced this session, 57 in the Senate and 124 in the House.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs, from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and seals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist (adv.)

Road Beautification
DURING the sessions of the American Society of Landscape Architects Philip H. Elwood, head of the department of landscape architecture of Iowa, State College, expressed a view on highway beautification that is both logical and illogical.

His position which goes all the way and brooks no compromise,
holds that highway beautification
is to be attained, not by embellishing hot dog stands and gas stations, but by clearing the roadside of everything that suggests commerce. It is a logical position because it is the logical end to which highway beautification leads. It is illogical because it admits of no
other use for the roadside than aesthetic uses and of no other need of the motoring public than the need for scenery.

This is carrying the idea of un-marred highway scenery to an idealistic consumption, but the public will be, must be, content with much less. Signboards, roadside stands and filling stations
must not crowd the highways so as to create traffic hazards and they must be driven from spots of rare natural beauty, but it is clear that the motorists who protest against the defacement of roadside beauty would complain no less strenuously if gasolene stations and refreshment stands were pushed back out of sight and beyond convenient reach.

Property rights prohibit a highway system of unadorned scenic beauty, so the landscape idealists must be content with something less than their ideals. Perhaps they will not lament over-
much if roadside squatters and advertisers will compromise on something less than the freedom, or rather license, they now enjoy.

Duplication
NOWHERE do ideals of results
getting fall down more lamentably at times than in charitable, welfare and relief activities,
commonly known as social work.
This is not because the men and women in these agencies lack knowledge, ability and devotion.
From the very nature of their work they can be only moderately successful in guiding and helping in the intricate maze of human living. The ideal is a hopelessly unattainable one, but organization
and centralization approach nearest to it.

The father of a family without work steals to keep his little ones from starvation. Arrested, the truth becomes known and he is freed and money, food, clothing
and fuel pour into his home in superabundance. Several charitable organizations interest themselves
in the case, if they are not federated, with duplication of effort.

The man probably never heard of the many organized charitable agencies supported by generous donors to care for cases like his.
Or he may have been afraid to approach them, or the orderly process of their systematized activities may have caused delay. Who knows? Yet it is a disorderly world in which such cases occur.
It is a crisis, seemingly pur-poseless, at odds sort of world. Objects are attained in too roundabout a fashion: mills function
without enough grit and the flour
is produced only with endless friction and lost effort. Many efforts are needed. But there is too much waste when there is no organization, no federated supervision.

Patriotism
Civic pride is but local patriotism. In fact, civic pride is the common manifestation of patriotism. Every citizen who feels a sense of responsibility toward that community and who is convinced that his community is superior to most others is a patriot and differs from the national patriot only in that he has brought his patriotism
home to himself.

But this civic pride is not merely a manifestation of a communal superiority complex. It is based upon something more than vain
boasting and blind patriotism. It springs from the stern conviction
among the citizens of the community that their home town offers something that no other community offers in an equal degree. Civic pride is especially pronounced in self-made communities. The city which has only preserved its natural resources or attribute also the problem of civic pride, because the man who fabricates his success is no less proud of his position than the man who began on the proverbial
low string.

"FOREST LOVE" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.
Nancy Hollenbeck, young and beautiful, wants to keep her newest beau, Mat Tully, all to herself. Returning from a ride she leaves him at the door to avoid her mother's questionings and her sister's stares. Later Mrs. Hollenbeck warns Nancy against her own mistake of marrying a poor man. Nancy, after a sleepless night, decides to follow her mother's advice. She breaks a date with Mat. Louise and Nancy attend the annual house-party of the rich Craigs.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.
NANCY MEETS JACK
BEAMER, HANDSOME
SPORTSMAN

CHAPTER V.
"I DON'T know why I asked Jack Beamer," Mrs. Craig murmured, on the second
night of the house party.
Mr. Craig (John P. Craig, of Craig & Kauffman, Realtors)
sighed and looked at his watch,
but it was only ten o'clock, a little too early to suggest retiring. "I don't know, either," he yawned.
"Still—everybody asks him—"
"Well, don't ask him again,"
Mr. Craig suggested, irritably, discovering that he had played a queen on a jack and the Canfield
that was coming along so nicely
was completely ruined.
Seven summers at the same place had killed any love he had ever had for Craigfield. It was all right at first. He and Cora—he called her "Mama" in those days—
had gone boating, and even swimming in the river, with May Belle,
a twelve-year-old tomboy, and dining like a frenzied frog and squealing. "Look at me, Daddy!
Look! I'm not touching bottom!"
May Belle and the Hollenbeck
girls—especially the pretty one,
Nancy—used to think he was a wonderful swimmer and he would demonstrate his prowess by the hour. "Watch me. See how I kick?
Hard!"

Old-Fashioned
But now everybody used fancy
strokes that made his stolid breast stroke seem slow and old fashioned,
and besides the water was much colder than it used to be. The camp was too comfortable, either.
They had added to it and added
to it, improved and improved, until it was just a city house in the country, and one might as well be home. May Belle was a young lady now, with the little friends
no had once liked so well turned into silly, chattering women, and supercilious, stick-haired society
girls who ostracized him completely,
as if he were a hundred and
ten. Even Jack Beamer, who was thirty-five if he was a day and was naturally expected to be a little company for his host, was spending every moment with the youngsters. John P. Craig but nothing left for John P. Craig but solitude and spinning corks.

"She's paying too much attention to Nancy Hollenbeck," his wife went on, twirling her rings nervously as she talked. "I don't like
it. May Belle says that all the girls here noticed it, and I don't want anything like that going on in my house. I don't know WHAT Kitty Hill thinks would say, she has brought up those girls so carefully."

"Nothing to worry about—Nancy's no fool!"
"That's just it, John. I don't like it. She knows her reputation.
I hate to say it, but May Belle thinks she's setting her cap for him. They're been together every minute."

"Pshaw! Suppose they are. I wish, Nancy is only a baby."
"No, she isn't. You would not believe how wise and calculating
she is."

She was looking her best tonight
in a dress of filmy, flame color
stuff, her cheeks as red as her dress. "I'm bartender. Gil Neal, don't you DARE touch the gift.
But I'll let you squeeze the oranges.
Gil darling—the ORANGES, not me."

"Don't hurry me—the danger next!" Gilbert Neal giggled, and coming from the butler's pantry
his voice sounded shrill and high-almost effeminate. Certainly he wasn't the son-in-law John Craig
would have picked.
"What can a fine, tall girl like
May Belle see in a skinny little fellow like that?" he wanted to know, but his wife waved him impatiently aside. "Shh!" She wanted to listen. "Gil Neal, so
of one of the State's oldest families—well, why SHOULDNT
notice May Belle? A lovely girl
like that—the Neals ought to be GLAD to get a little new blood
into the family, not to mention
the money she'd bring."
And so she forgot her work
about Jack Beamer, who apparently couldn't remember he was married, and Nancy, who certainly was making no effort to remind him. She did not even notice that he had not come in from the porch
with the others, and were o-
somewhere in the darkness now.

Mutual Interest
But two others noticed in
Louise and her last dancing partner,
Matthew Tully.
"Let's get outside and get some air," Louise suggested a little timidly.

As "the plain" girl, she was conscious with some alarm, and they were anxious to get out of her and get back to a livelier prettier party. Still, a little look queer, going out alone to
for Nancy. With an escort
would look so much more natural, so much more carefree.

"Fine!" Mat downed the bar-man's cocktail and took her by the arm. "Let's go and walk to the river." He had seen a pale, dazzling skirt disappearing a few moments ago, down the river path.
"Yes, it will be beautiful,"
Lou, who had seen the same thing agreed gratefully, impatient to
on the way. She MUST see
for Nancy. With an escort
would look so much more natural, so much more carefree.

To be continued tomorrow.

Theatres

AT THE CLIFTONA
"Monte Carlo" opened in a blaze
of glory at the Cliftona Theatre yesterday. It is a picture that presents an abundance of zestful
amusement for every member of the family, young or old—a picture that the audiences went for
in a great way.
"Monte Carlo" is the tale of a Countess who goes to the great European gambling resort to escape a possible marriage with a Prince whom she cannot bring herself to fall in love with. While she is in Monte Carlo she becomes the objective of the romantic heart of a young and handsome Count who finds it necessary to get a position as her hairdresser
in order to be near her.
The fortunes of the Countess,
the Prince and the Count have been carefully blended into a rich
and thrillingly provocative story
by the masterful directorial work
of Ernest Lubitsch, who made
"The Love Parade." There are six sparkling new songs in "Monte Carlo."
Jeanette MacDonald, the charm-
er of "The Love Parade," "The Vagabond King" and "Let's Go Native," plays the part of the Countess. Jack Buchanan is the Count who wins her hand. Claud
Allister is the unlucky-in-love
Prince.

GRAND THEATRE
The local theatrical impresario,
W. Baughman, has been making desperate efforts in the past few days to secure the latest craze in minstrelsy, which is scheduled to visit this part of the State, and, if success crowns his efforts, the citizens will have occasion to congratulate not only the impresario
but themselves.
This is a collection of high class minstrel talent, headed by
"Red" Grange, the indomitable football star, Mrs. George Primrose and the inimitable minstrel clown, John Healy.

The organization operates under the name of "Spirit of Minstrelsy," and one can almost imagine the sound of the tambourine and the rattle and click of the bones, which sounds are more familiar to all lovers of that good old wholesome minstrel entertainment, which has stood the acid test, when stage entertainment is sought.

Many followers of outdoor sports have seen "Red" Grange,
but there are some who do not really know that his talents are not limited to that field. The fact that Grange has been one of the highest price vaudeville attractions in the past few years stamps
him as an entertainer equalled by few, and in this particular line he really excels himself.

There has been a dearth of stage shows throughout the country, and the people are beginning to rebel and demand something more than pictures and so-called "canned music." That is why our local manager feels that it is his duty to make a special effort to secure "The Spirit of Minstrelsy." Let us hope his efforts will be successful.

Most funny bones are in the elbow, but some go to the head.

ting and petty.

—Malnutrition Results from Deficient Diet
School Youngsters, Burning Energy in Work and Play,
Must Have Strength-Giving Foods, Says Authority,
Or Health Quickly Fails.
By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

AFTER all is said and done,
child health depends largely on what the mother gives Every conscientious mother today
is in far better position to successfully rear
her children
than were her forebears. From the viewpoint of knowledge as to what is best for a child, the modern mother has great advantages.
Of course
poverty plays a large part in malnutrition of
the child today,
as it always has.
There are great problems to be solved in the future for better
care of the child, in education,
physical care, and mental and social development.
Malnutrition comes most commonly from a diet which is incapable of supplying the needs of the body. To keep a child healthy and happy, he must first of all have the foods that make for energy and strength. If a child has not nourishing food, when he does not take sufficient amounts of it, when he has improper habits of eating, then something unpleasant is bound to happen. He grows listless, tired, pallid and irritable.
The school child, also, the preschool child, for that matter, uses
up an enormous amount of energy in his day of work or play. Every movement he makes means just so much energy spent, and this has to be made up in the right kind and amount of food, as well as in rest and sleep. If he doesn't have the food he so much needs, Nature has a way of taking from the child's store
of body substances in order to make up the deficiency in food. He loses weight, strength and vitality. His nails and bones grow soft, every part of his little body suffers.
One of the greatest factors to be blamed for a too small food intake is the school child's breakfast. In the homes where there is plenty of it is not uncommon for children to hurry through the meal, taking scarcely a snatch to eat, and then go running all the way to school because they may be late.
Recent investigations among school children showed that thousands of children among the poorer classes
had for their breakfasts only coffee and bread. What a travesty on Nature! What a waste of energy! It is heath this is. Every child has a right to a good start in the day and
in life.
Breakfast should be an unhurried
meal, and for his proper nourishment he should have orange juice
or some other form of fruit, cereal
and whole milk, and at least a glass of milk. This starts the day right.
He has something to go on, to meet the hard work of his morning. He will not be overtired and over-
hungry at luncheon time.
His luncheon should be adequate and broad. What a mother sets before her child is the easiest thing to find, instead of wholesome, nourishing
foods that go to make up the well-balanced meal he needs. Many mothers, you cannot afford to, to any chances with your child's health
when it comes to his food and eating habits.
Every school child should have plenty of rest and sleep. One of the shortest roads to malnutrition is lack of sufficient and restful sleep. Young children need a nap or rest at midday.
They need plenty of fresh air and sunshine. This is the path to health.

Answers to Health Queries
M. G. R. Q.—How can I tell when my tonsils are diseased? If they are diseased should they be removed?
A.—Consult your doctor for an examination. If your tonsils are diseased they should be removed.
Worried Mother. Q.—What would cause the following symptoms: skin
dry and scaly behind the ears; burping, will tend to keep it moist, and it will not heal—powder seems to cause further aggravation—one other part of the body is similarly affected.
A.—This is probably eczema.
Watch the diet and elimination, and avoid the use of water on the irritated parts.
M. C. D. Q.—Is it wise to kiss a patient who has had tuberculosis in a mild form? The doctor, who has been treating the patient, says the case will be cured in a few months.
A.—Not if there are active germs
in the sputum.
S. J. C. Q.—Does hard work after eating hinder or help the heart?
2.—What causes high blood pressure?
A.—It is not wise to ever exercise
after eating.
2.—Worry, excitement, overeating
and emotional disturbances will cause high blood pressure.

FRESHMEN TAKE SCHOOL HONORS

POULTRY FARMING COURSE ANNOUNCED

A correspondence course in poultry farming based on the findings of hundreds of tests, the experiences of successful Ohio poultrymen, and cost records from 463
poultry demonstration farms is offered to residents of the state by the poultry department at the Ohio State University, announces
E. L. Dakan, poultryman at the state institution.
The course, consisting of 12
mimeographed lessons deals with practically all phases of poultry raising from feeding for increased egg production, to culling, breeding and marketing. More than 5,000 have enrolled in the course
since 1918.
Those desiring to receive this concisely written home study
course, Dakan points out, may do so by writing to the poultry department at the Ohio State University, Columbus. An enrollment fee of two dollars is charged to cover postage and other expenses.
The lessons are mailed one at a time.

WINTER BRIDGE PROGRAM NOW REALITY; 341 CONTRACTS LET

With the state highway letting of January 22, Governor White's winter bridge relief program is no longer a theory but a reality. This letting concludes a series which has been held over the past two months. Exactly 341 bridges have been placed under contract since November 6, at a total cost of $3,526,000.

This program was conceived by the Governor last fall as an unemployment relief measure and has been carried out by the department of highways in conjunction with the state relief committee. J. R. Burke, chief engineer of bridges, deserves a great deal of credit for organizing his department and putting under contract within two months more bridges than have ever been placed under contract by the highway department in any one year.

Ohio's efforts to provide legitimate employment opportunities for worthy idle men attracted considerable national attention which resulted in similar programs being adopted by other states.

In order that the unemployed would actually be helped, a network of county relief committees were set up, purpose of which was to select the most needy of the local men and recommend them to the contractor having a bridge contract in that locality. With but few exceptions the entire scheme worked out to the complete satisfaction of the state officials.

"Aside from providing work for the unemployed, the undertaking represents a worth while investment of public funds from the standpoint of safety alone, as many of the bridges on this program will replace weak and one-way structures," declared Director Merrell.

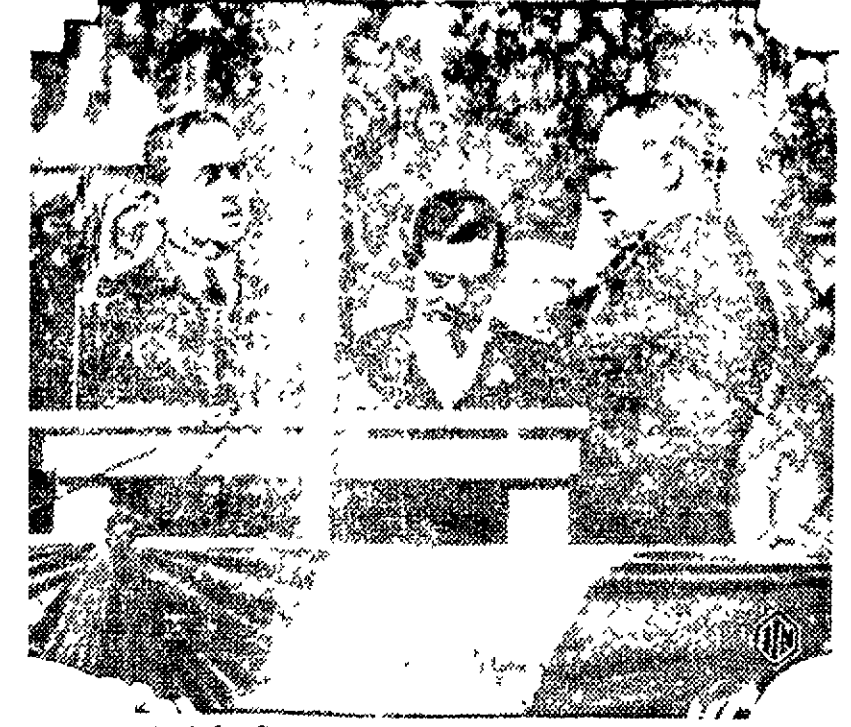

Weather and unusually low material prices have favored bridge construction and the bridge engineer inspectors report that first class workmanship is being obtained throughout the state.

The direct labor benefit of this program alone represents 300,000 man days. Statistics show that the average man on this work has four dependents. Some of this work has been located in every county in Ohio.

Billy Petrolle Battalino Plan Fistic Feature

By Lee Conklin
NEW YORK, Jan. 26. — Billy Petrolle and Christopher Battalino, two of the "fighting" men in the ring, will meet in a 15-round bout here under arrangements being made today by Promoter James J. Johnston of Madison Square Garden.

Pete Relly has accepted the bout for Battalino. Johnston verbally closed the other half of the match in a phone conversation with Jack Hurley, Petrolle's manager. In St. Paul, contracts are expected to be signed and a date set after Hurley arrives here tomorrow.

The weight limit for Petrolle will be 144 pounds. This means that Battalino, who made 126 pounds a couple of months ago for the last defense of his featherweight title, will make a spectacular hurdle over the junior lightweight and lightweight divisions to take on a legitimate junior welterweight.

Battalino defeated all challengers for his featherweight title and Petrolle has ruined a flock of lightweight and welterweight contenders. Neither boxer could get a bout with Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, so they are going to mix in what should be a fistic titbit.

"Bat" was supposed to make 126 pounds for Lou Feldman here last month. When he came in at 135 3-4, he was suspended and his title vacated in this state.

Even if reinstated here as champion, the Hartford Italian would not be allowed to go out of his class to fight Petrolle.

Wood Will Again Assault Record

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 26.—Gar Wood, America's premier water speedster, was ready to make another assault on the world's record today.

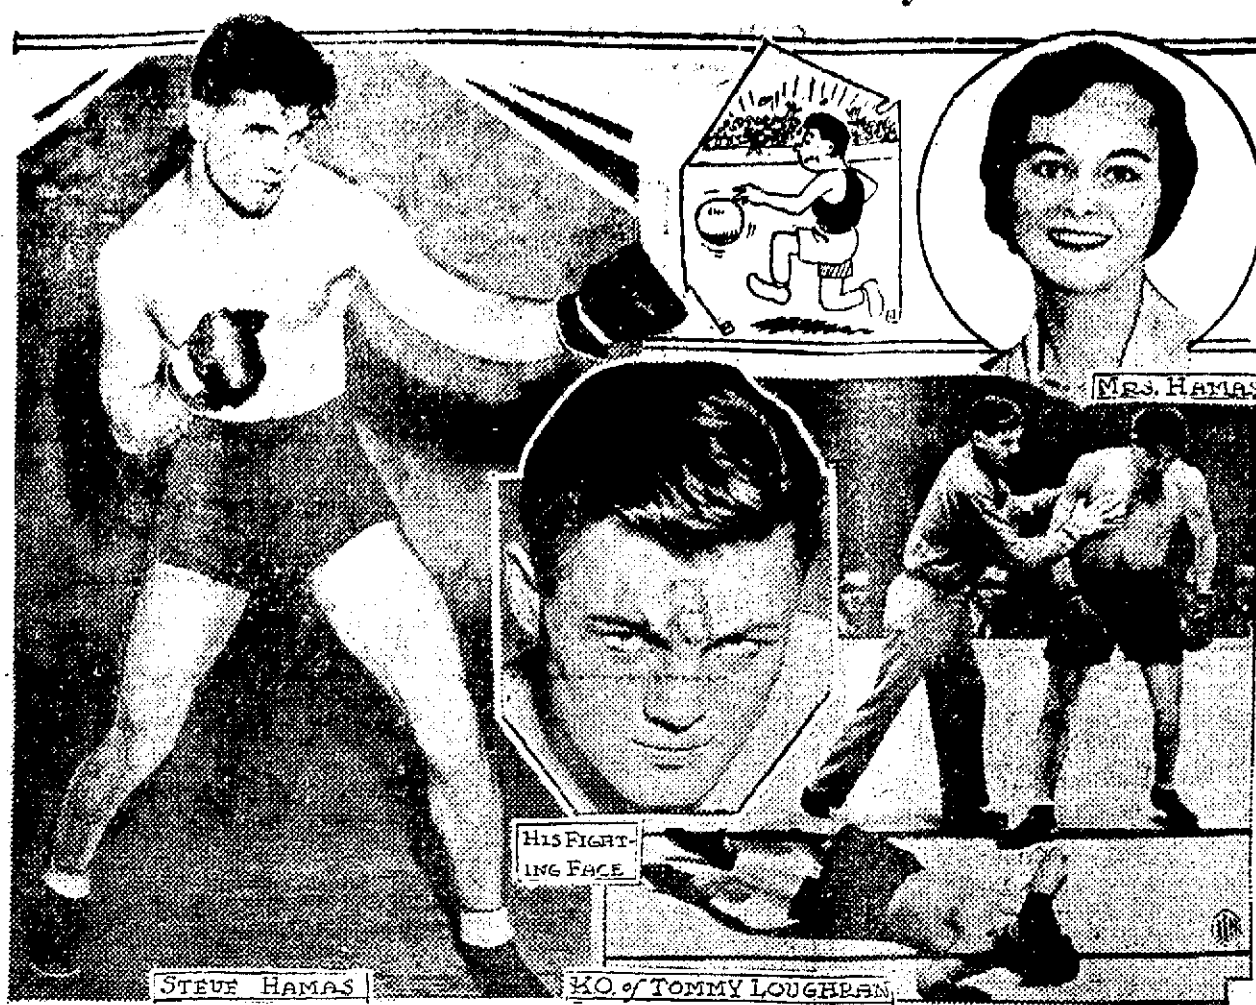

He blamed his failure to lower the mark yesterday on a short circuit in the timing apparatus and trouble in the starter and battery of his Miss America IX. Nevertheless, the veteran boat racer was confident he will be able to shatter the world record of 110.223 miles per hour now held by Kaye Don, of England.

The Briton's speed mark was exceeded by Wood on the down stretch in his attempt yesterday when his boat flashed over the waters of Indian Creek at the rate of 111.14 miles an hour. But, on the return stretch Wood's motor failed and he was able to do no better than 65 miles an hour. To be officially recognized as a record the speed must represent the average rate attained in both stretches.

The recent knockout of Tommy Loughran has focused the eyes of the sports world on his conqueror, Steve Hamas, the up and coming young heavyweight who startled the fans with his two-round K. O. of the famed Philadelphia Steve, former Penn State collegian, has a remarkable record of twenty-four knockouts in twenty-seven ring battles and without a loss chalked up against him. Hamas is also one of the best educated fistic stars, having graduated from Penn State with an A. B. and an ambition to study medicine. It was this ambition that spurred him to turn professional a year and a half ago. Steve hopes his ring earnings will permit him to carry on with his studies and also keep his bride of three months, the former Kathryn L. Work, of New York, in caviar. Mrs. Hamas, an accomplished sportsman and pianist, has never seen Steve fight, her courage having failed her on the one occasion she attempted to watch him in a bout. Hamas is twenty-three years old and a natural athlete. He held the intercollegiate heavyweight boxing title for 1927 and 1929, played fullback on the Penn State varsity football team, excelled in the shot put, hammer throw and javelin and also starred in basketball and lacrosse while at college. Will Steve add the heavyweight crown to his laurels?

BUS COMPANY MAKES CHARGE

Buckeye Stages Petition of Bankruptcy Against Local Firm Made Public.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26.—Charges that Eugene Porter, of Circleville, president of the Ohio Scenic Stages Inc. diverted company funds to his own use were revealed today when a bankruptcy petition filed by the Buckeye Stages against the Ohio Scenic Stages was made public in federal court.

Porter, according to the petition, purchased three automobiles with company's funds and transferred them to his wife.

"He has further taken contracts for the transportation of United States mail by the company in his own name and converted the proceeds to his own use," the petition charges.

Asking that a receiver be appointed the petition also declares there is a "grave danger" that Porter will permit dissipation of the company's remaining assets by the forfeiture of its certificate by the state utilities commission.

Porter, the complaint says, caused action to be brought with himself as plaintiff in the Pickaway-co court for a receiver to take over the assets, not already "converted to his own use."

Officials of the Buckeye Stages charge that the Ohio Scenic Stages firm owes them $10,000 for which they wish that a receiver be appointed. Federal Judge Benson W. Hough has not yet acted upon the request.

MANY SLAIN IN SALVADOR

Severe Fighting Continues With Serious Revolutionary Uprising.

COLON, Panama, Jan. 26.—Severe fighting continued today in the interior of the republic of Salvador, where between 600 and 2,000 persons are reported to have lost their lives in a serious revolutionary uprising.

Messages received here by way of Guatemala, evading a strict censorship imposed by the government of President Martinez, indicated the insurrection was continuing unabated. Several towns in the interior were cut off from San Salvador, the capital.

The government distributed hand-outs declaring the revolt, allegedly of communist origin, was quiet, but dispatches from other sources denied these official statements. In his communique, President Martinez expressed confidence that American gun-boats would protect foreign lives and property in case of emergency.

FLEMING TO FACE ACTION

Grand Jury to Probe Missing 'Scandal Sheet' Editor, Prosecutor Says.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 26.—Grand jury action may be taken as a result of the long delay in the arrest of Grover W. Fleming, editor and publisher of the Ohio Examiner, who is wanted both in Springfield and Columbus.

Prosecutor Orville Wear intimated some action might be taken following the admission of law enforcement agencies that they were unable to locate the editor.

Fleming is wanted here on an affidavit filed in municipal court by Major Henry H. Buck, United States secret service officer at Cincinnati, charging the circulation of false rumor about a banking institution.

He is wanted in Columbus on charges of criminal libel filed in Franklin-co common pleas court.

Both charges resulted from articles appearing in the Ohio Examiner, a weekly newspaper.

lated in various townships that his salary was $5,000 yearly. This is false as his salary does not exceed $3,000, part of which the state and county share.

TEEGARDIN NEXT

C. B. Teegardin, chairman of the extension department of the farm bureau, next spoke to the county dads, stating that the petitions as presented to the body Monday morning were not presented to signers in the right way. "Some were presented under my name and personally I certainly wish to rebuke the idea that I would head such a movement," Mr. Teegardin said.

"The extension service hasn't been given the correct standing. This department helps to make better farmers, better housewives and many other services too numerous to mention and therefore it is unfair to cut such a serviceable department," he said. "We only want our proportional share of the budget cut," Mr. Teegardin concluded.

R. L. Brehmer of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce next responded and branded the petitions unfair. "I signed the petition under a delusion, not understanding the real meaning of it and probably many others did the same. I do not wish to go on record as approving it," he said.

Felix R. Caldwell, S. Court-st., said that he hoped the commissioners (using the popular phrase) "would cut appropriations to the bone" but could not see the fairness in cutting the extension department 50 per cent. He took an active part in the discussion throughout the meeting.

James Swearingen, member of the farm bureau and resident of Jackson-twp, also talked and in part said, "We all want our taxes lowered but we do not want to deprive our coming generation of extension work which has helped so much by cutting off 50 per cent of the appropriations for the extension service." It would be unfair.

Harry J. Briggs, service manager of the county farm bureau, explained that it would almost be impossible to do without the county agent and other parts of the extension service. He listed some of the duties and the aid which the county agent renders to anyone in the county who wishes advice in farming. He also made it plain that the extension department was not associated with the farm bureau, only in the sense that the farm bureau formerly sponsored it, before a group of local interested persons petitioned the commissioners for extension department service.

FAT ST. STATEMENTS

John Peters of Walnut-twp, said that a number of false statements had been going the rounds

in the county, some to the effect that the farm bureau pays the county agent. "This is not true," he said.

Marvin Steely, of Washington-twp, told the commissioners that a number of persons had been misinformed by bearers of petitions to slash salaries and cut the county extension appropriations. "I myself, was accused by a man who was carrying one of the petitions," and he made a revealing statement in an attempt to force me to sign. He was either misinformed or attempting to misinform me in trying to get my name on the petition. I told him the petition was unfair in that it did not cut salaries as it did the extension service," he said.

Thomas F. Jeffries of the Chamber of Commerce next spoke and deplored the fact that "so much was being made over the salaries of Pickaway-co officials and warned that if cuts were made competent and capable men would not run for office. "Most of surrounding counties where cuts are being made now, increases were in order two years ago and in most cases a number of surrounding counties are 'still ahead' in the game." It is absolutely out of order to cut salaries of our officials and especially of the good extension work which is progressing in our community," Mr. Jeffries said.

Ira Fisher, of Mühlenberg-twp, told the commissioners that bearers of petitions misrepresented facts to him, stating that county officials were receiving from $2,000 to $3,000 per year and that the county agent's salary was $5,000 per year.

CITES RESULTS

Col. C. E. Groce, of S. Court-st., in speaking to the county dads and the rest of the group present, said, "If we reduce salaries we can't get good men to run for office. I certainly hope the commissioners will perform their duty in an attempt to solve this problem in the best way. It would be a great calamity to lose H. Stanley Lewis, our county extension agent," he said. Mr. Groce concluded his talk, quoting Shakespeare in his play, "Hamlet"—"To thine own self be true and it will follow as the night, the day; thou canst not then be false to any man."

Walter J. Marion, of Washington-twp, former representative to the General Assembly, next spoke. "My group was forced into coming before the commissioners more or less for protection and to give moral support. It is wrong to cut salaries of officials already elected and employed. In and around the World War when a number of other counties increased the salaries of deputies and officials Pickaway-co stuck to its old salaries which are still being paid today. In my personal opinion there is no real need for cuts in either salaries of county officials or in the extension service," he concluded.

THANKS GROUP

John W. Hay of the county commissioners, told the group in adjourning the meeting that the county commissioners appreciated the co-operation of the various groups who had appeared before them offering suggestions and giving opinions. "Wherever it is possible we are going to reduce the budget. Taxes will be 30 per cent lower and all efforts to save the county's money will be made. A report of the state examiners, Jones and Atwell, now inspecting the records of Pickaway-co shows that our county is in good or better condition than any of the surrounding ones. Only one fund, the judicial, has been overdrafted. It is to be only expected that in an attempt to check crime we must expend this money in the judicial fund," Mr. Hay concluded.

"NOW" we can advertise it"

Products are nearly always put on the market before they are advertised. Quite frequently, changes have to be made in an article before the public generally will accept it. Color, design, flavor — those are some of the things the public has to be consulted about. Sometimes a product won't sell at all and simply has to be discontinued. As soon as people show that they welcome an article and as soon as all refinements and improvements have been added, then you could hear the manufacturer say, if you could be in his office, "Now we can advertise."

When you buy advertised goods, you may know they have gone through the experimental stages. You may be sure that the manufacturer knows they are right and that he is willing to stake his reputation on them. You may be confident that you are buying goods that have sold and that would continue to sell without any advertising at all. For advertising merely lets all the people know — now — what considerable numbers would find out by word of mouth ten years from now.

Of course, advertising goes a step farther. Word of mouth hardly ever tells all the uses of a product. It often doesn't give the real reasons for its superiority. Advertising tells people all about a product and the numerous ways in which they can use it.

Whatever you buy, therefore, let the advertisements be your guide. When the manufacturer says, "Now we can advertise it," you know that you can safely say, "Now we can buy it."

The club under the leadership of Miss Helen Wittich is composed of Lucile Kirkwood, Dorothy Clark, Grace Steele, Doris Peters, Charles Brown, John Hamrod, Charles Plum, Earl Millhorns, and Ned Dresbach accompanied on the piano by Dorothy May Glick. Eight numbers were included on the program:

"Rolling Down to Rio" ... Edward German
"Galloway Piper" and "Irish Air" ... Percy Fletcher
"Russian Lullaby" ... Robinson MacArthur
"Water Boy" ... J. A. MacFarren
"Air of Consecration" ... "Tween the Mount and the Deep, Deep Vale" ... German Folk Song
"The Musical Trust" ... Joseph Clokey
"Three Little Words" and "Old Zip Coon" were very cleverly sung as encore numbers, and were received with much praise by the students.

GOVERNOR'S ECONOMIC AIMS SHOWN IN STATE'S LIBRARY

BY ELMER P. FRIES.

COLUMBUS.—More emphasis by Gov. George White upon the necessity for economy in all governmental affairs has resulted in voluntary reduction of proposed expenditures in one department of $511,692 for the biennium beginning last Jan. 1.

Also it has been ascertained that 16 employees on the payroll under the previous administration are not needed by the department. The department is that of the state librarian still functioning under an appointee of the Cooper administration in its work of reorganizing and reducing personnel. The incumbent librarian had submitted to Harry D. Silver, former finance director, a budget for the years 1931 and 1932 calling for total expenditures of $694,086 for the biennium. It embraced a comprehensive extension of library facilities to counties not now equipped with public libraries.

In view of the fact that the Cooper administration closed its term with a deficit of $9,293,690.23, according to its own accountants' figures, financing of the proposed extension would be impossible under any governor determined to prevent over-spending. So the state librarian holding over temporarily from the Cooper regime revised his estimates of needs for 1931 and 1932. He submitted a new budget to Howard L. Bevis, finance director under Gov. White, proposing total expenditures of $182,394 for the two years. He also suggested that the extension program be deferred for two years.

Thus was the reduction of $511,692 for the biennium accomplished with an explanation from the librarian to the effect that he was prompted by the fact that "Gov. White has stated that it is inevitable that the state and all its political subdivisions face an era of unprecedented and enforced public economy."

He added the information that he had eliminated 16 employees from the payroll. And he set down the present payroll as $71,821 per year and the proposed payroll as $52,390 per year.

Finance Director Bevis, casting about for evidence of superfluous jobs and expenditures which should be abolished in the interest of the taxpayers, has not completed his retrenchment program but there is one position created by the Cooper administration that he eliminated without a moment's deliberation. That was the place of "chauffeur to the finance director." It paid the jobholder $1,440 a year under Director Silver. Director Bevis holds to the quaint idea that he should be his own chauffeur and save the state $1,440 a year. So an applicant for the post learned that it no longer is in existence.

In his first informal study of the finance department, Director Bevis also noted a job as "inspector" at $1,600 a year and another as "office assistant" at $1,560 a year that did not seem essential.

checks, are shown the door ... It is time for public officials all the way down to pull their belts tighter and prepare to operate on smaller allowances. And one of the first steps is to separate innumerable superfluous desk sitters from their beloved payroll.

Note to the school boy: Be good; if nobody ever had been mean, there wouldn't be any history to study.

Senate Starts Heavy Schedule

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—An administration and some Democratic leaders attacked these immigration controversy, revolving around a bill to deport alien seamen, occupied the senate today while the house continued to wrestle with the first of a dozen departmental appropriation bills.

These rather minor legislative measures held the spotlight as neither administration nor Democratic leaders could agree on more important matters. The much discussed tax bill remained in a house committee. Senate leaders delayed action on the equally important LaFollette bill to appropriate $375,000,000 for direct federal relief of the unemployed. The Glass bill, revising the federal reserve system, also remained before a senate committee. So did the new tariff bill.

WATSON TALKS
Senator Watson, Republican leader of the senate, announced the LaFollette measure would be called before the senate "before the end of the week." The administration has denounced it as the "beginning of the dole" and it may be defeated, but not before the progressives have waged a battle that will prove embarrassing to all who oppose it.

The administration's huge reconstruction finance corporation was ready to operate today, the senate having approved the house bill appropriating $500,000,000 to set its wheels in motion.

The progressives waged a curious fight in the senate, seeking to place restrictions on use of the fund. An amendment to prohibit loans to any organization, paying its officials more than $15,000 a year, was defeated after lengthy debate. So was a provision to recall any loan if the recipient attempted to reduce wages of employees receiving $2,000 a year.

In these pictures, appeared several cows over 15 years of age who were producing better than 10,000 pounds of milk and over 600 pounds of butterfat at this mature age.

Following this presentation, Mr. Lewis outlined 4H Club programs and other developments introduced by the local association. The election of officers resulted in the selection of C. L. Latta, president; William Green, vice president; and A. M. Peters, secretary-treasurer.

"The government has so governed my business that I do not know who owns it. I am suspected, expected, inspected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, commanded and compelled, until all I know is that I am supposed to provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race. Because I refuse to donate all and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away I am cussed and discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to and lied about, held up, held down, and robbed until I am nearly ruined, so the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what the hell is coming next."

FAVOR DIRECTORS

The administration will have its way, too, in naming directors of the corporation. All leaders agreed the nominations of former Vice President Charles G. Dawes, Harvey A. Couch, Arkansas utility magnate, and Jesse H. Jones, Texas financier, will be promptly confirmed by the senate. The progressives joined with Senator Norris, the insurgent leader, in declaring "let the president have his own directors running the corporation; it is his plan and he ought to be given a chance to succeed with it."

This Man's Plea Is Something

An Ohio bank recently mailed a letter to one of its customers informing him that a note had been due. In a few days it received the following letter:

"I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to send you a check in response to your request. My present financial condition is due to the effects of federal laws, state laws, county laws, corporation laws, by-laws, brother-in-laws, and outlaws, that have been foisted on an unsuspecting public. Through these various laws I have been held down held up, walked on, sat on, flattened and squeezed until I do not know where I am, or why I am. These laws compel me to pay a merchant's tax, capital stock tax, excise tax income tax, real estate tax, property tax, auto tax, gas tax, water tax, light tax, cigarette tax, street tax, school tax, syntax, and carpet tax.

"In addition to these taxes I am required and required to contribute to every society and organization that the inventive mind of man can organize. The Society of St. John, the Women's Relief, Navy League, the Children's Home, the Policemen's Benefit, the Dorcas Society, the Y. M. C. A., the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Jewish Relief, the Near East, and the Gold Diggers' Home, also every hospital and

More fruit and vegetables than wheat and flour are exported from the United States each year. In eleven months of last year, ending in November, the value of exports of wheat and flour was $76,638,000, compared to $114,701,000 of fruit and vegetables and their products. Less than $4,000,000 of the exports of fruit and vegetables were in the form of canned goods.

The eighth grade pupils are working on stories of George Washington. Booklets are being made to tell the story of this great man. These are to be written in chapters, and pictures will be pasted in them to illustrate events during his life. The outside cover will be decorated in a simple but dignified manner. These stories are being written by the English class to celebrate the bicentennial of our first president, Washington.

The students in the geography class are going to write stories about the travels of George Washington.

The next "Buckeye" will contain, in addition to school notes, stories about Abraham Lincoln and Benjamin Franklin.

Marjorie Mader is absent because of a slight concussion of the brain.

TEST RESULTS

Exactly 52 of the 79 classes in the Circleville elementary schools have medians above 50 per cent of Ohio schools taking the Every Pupils' test given by the State Department of Education recently.

Only 27 of the 79 classes have medians below those of 50 per cent of Ohio schools taking the same tests.

Following the title of the grade and its teacher's name are listed the subject of each test taken by that grade, the median mark secured by similar grades throughout Ohio, and the median obtained by the local grade.

PREPARATION AND SERVING OF FOODS

Come
Early

See the dishes demonstrated on the stage. A few well-chosen modern devices combined with short-cuts in the preparation of food will greatly reduce the routine of cookery. Hear the lecturer answer your questions and your neighbor's questions on home-making problems.

As she works, she talks about the fine products and house-keeping problems. She will tell you the newest idea of table-setting for parties and home-entertaining. She will discuss the most recent models of labor-saving devices in her model kitchen.

Each session is a housekeepers' forum. Every woman is invited. No tickets are needed. Come early. The musical program starts a half-hour before the Cooking School begins.

MEMORY IS REVIVED BY FALL ON STREET

Accident in Chicago Loop Blessing to New Yorker.

New York.—A man clad in a ragged suit and a dirty white sweater started to cross State street in Chicago one night recently. He was just another bit of human motism and nobody paid very much attention when he leaped from in front of a speeding automobile, stumbled and rapped his head on the curb.

The fellow got up and rubbed his head in a bewildered manner. Traffic in the loop swirled on, but the man in the disheveled clothes sought a side street—he was suddenly and unaccountably ashamed of his appearance. Faint flickers of memory began to stir in an awakened mind, writes Tom Petty in the Chicago Tribune.

And that is why Harry G. Havery, wealthy Westchester county real estate and insurance man, who had been given up for dead after he dropped from sight on a fishing trip in Long Island sound eight months ago, was back with his family in time for a happy Christmas. Mr. Havery was haggard, his cheeks were thin, and he could remember little of his adventures in aphasia.

He Finds Himself.

He had found himself a few hours after having suffered the blow on his head in Chicago when his erratic memory told him who he was as his brain began to function normally. He immediately began hurried preparations to return home.

The Westchester man who came back from the dead is thirty-eight years old and a step-son of the late Charles Purdy, pioneer land owner in New York City's most fashionable suburban district.

Mr. Havery had lived for years with his wife and four children near White Plains. On May 2 he went fishing off Rye beach, and when he did not return home that night, a search disclosed his boat anchored 100 feet from the shore, and evidence that he had fallen into the rock-studded waters. All efforts to find any trace of him failed. He had been happy at home. His health and business affairs were in good condition. The family felt he had suffered an accident and slowly gave up hope.

Wires Brother-in-Law.

Mr. Havery's brother-in-law, Assistant Corporation Counsel Samuel Faile, received a telegram signed with the missing man's name. A telephone call to Chicago followed and $100 was telegraphed for Havery's expenses home.

"I do not know where I have been nor what I have been doing all these months I have been away," said Mr. Havery at his home.

"Things were mostly blank after I fell out of my boat while trying to pull up the anchor. I struck my head then. I have a vague remembrance of having worked on a farm near Chicago.

"I recall the fall I suffered while walking along the street in Chicago. That brought back some of my memory. I began to search my pockets and discovered the suit I was wearing had been bought in New York. That helped me to recall my identity. When I finally could remember I was appalled at my appearance."

APPEAL BRINGS LIFE TERM

MIAMI, Fla.—Edward S. Hall's objection to a 15-year sentence for armed robbery brought him a life sentence. Hall appealed a 15-year sentence by Judge E. C. Collins and won a new trial. He was tried and found guilty a second time and brought before Judge Collins for pronouncement of sentence "Life imprisonment," the judge said.

RATES FOR WATER IN OHIO ARE COVERING WIDE RANGE

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 25.—Ohio water rates range from 20 cents to $4.50 for the first 1,000 cubic feet of metered water, a rate book just issued by the Ohio Municipal League discloses. The study is the first of a series on Ohio public utilities, which will also include electricity, gas, telephone, heat, and street railways.

The study of water was compiled by Ellsworth Wolfspenger, Canton, and Rex M. Johnson, Columbus, graduate students at Ohio State University, under the supervision of Prof. Harvey Walker, who is secretary-treasurer of the league. Data on the water service of all of Ohio's 110 cities and from many of the larger villages are included.

Direct comparisons of water rates in different communities are difficult to make, it points out, because "no two communities have exactly the same local conditions." Some water can be used just as it is taken in its raw state, while others require extensive treatment.

Of the communities covered in the survey, 147 had municipally owned water systems and only 17 were owned by private corporations. Average cost of the first 1,000-cubic feet of metered water was nearly the same with the municipally owned systems. In the former the cost ranged from 20 cents to $4.37, with an average of $1.19. For the latter, the average cost of the first 1,000 cubic feet of metered water in all cities was $1.18, and ranged from 31 cents to $4.50.

Four communities shared the distinction of having the lowest rate for the first 1,000 cubic feet of water. They were Dover, Norwalk, West Alexandria, and Willard, in all of which the charge was 20 cents. Gallipolis had a rate of 24 cents and 22 others had a rate of 25 cents for the first 1,000 cubic feet.

Peaceful Indians

The Havasupai Indians, whose reservation is in the Grand Canyon National park, boast that none of their tribe has ever killed a white man.

Houston.—"Just for the fun of it," F. J. Walter, Jr., of Houston, trains lions, monkeys, elk, timber wolves and other animals in his backyard. He never has been a professional animal trainer, but all of his life he has kept animals and taught them tricks.

Right now he is spending most of his time teaching a young Nubian lion to do tricks and an elk to pull a wagon.

San Francisco Sends Invitation to Wales

San Francisco.—A huge invitation, engraved on parchment and beautifully printed, has been sent the prince of Wales to attend the Shrine convention in San Francisco next July. Joseph Martin, Los Angeles Shriner, who is visiting England to arrange a part of that country's participation in the Olympic games, will present the document.

YOUTHS FACE KIDNAP CASE

Charge Two Boys Abducted Doctor Then Stole His Car; Gibsonburg Scene.

OVERLIN, O., Jan. 26.—Facing a charge of kidnapping a prominent Gibsonburg physician and stealing his automobile in which they wanted "to go East," two youthful gunmen were arrested here today and held for Sandusky-co authorities.

The two youths gave their names as Harold Horner, 18, of Cleveland, and Donald Harding, 22, of Iola, Kansas.

According to police, the two youths kidnapped Dr. W. R. Latchaw, 55, of Gibsonburg, in front of his home last midnight, and forced him to drive them to Wakeman, O., where he was thrown out of the machine as the pair fled.

Deputy sheriffs from Sandusky-co were expected to arrive here today and return the pair to Fremont where charges will be placed against them.

Returning to his home after completing his sick calls, Dr. Latchaw was confronted by the two youths.

Small Boy Honored

The little boy buried in Arlington cemetery and called the "Little Corporal," was the son of Sergt. Frank Lankton, General Pershing's orderly during the World war, and was always called Little Corporal by the general. He is buried in the civilian portion of the Fort Myer post section of Arlington.

Father Michael M. Meara lived in this community from 1882 to 1899, generally beloved and universally respected. St. Paul's specifications of the ideal priest were surely the measure of Father Meara's life. "Blameless as the steward of God, not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre, but a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate."

NEGRO BELLHOP REPORTED DYING

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 26—Francis Morgan, 21-year-old negro bellhop, was reported dying in a local hospital today following an automobile accident on the national highway six miles west of here late last night.

Morgan, who was riding in an automobile driven by John Gale of Zanesville, was thrown to the pavement when the car collided with one driven by Roy Havens of Hopeville. He suffered a fractured skull.

Gale, Havens, and Arthur Smith, also of Hopeville, who was riding with Havens, escaped from the accident with only minor injuries.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia.—The long awaited visit which King Alexander planned to make to Zagreb and repeatedly postponed because of adverse developments in the Croatian state will probably start tomorrow. Accompanied by Queen Marie and court officials, the king will leave on a special train under close guard.

If you must depend on your luck, in these days of motorization is is safer to look for four-leaf clovers than for horse shoes.

BILL WOULD MAKE WASHINGTON A MODEL PROHIBITION CENTER

WASHINGTON—Lashed by charges that Washington "bootleggers bear a charmed life," the senate was involved today in a wet and dry war over enactment of the Howell bill, proposing bone-dry prohibition enforcement in the nation's capital.

The proposed law, with drastic provisions for making Washington a "model city," would make President Hoover responsible for prohibition enforcement here, according to the author, Senator Robert B. Howell (R) of Nebraska. At any rate, the administration's floor leaders fought its consideration although Howell protested the president favored its passage.

The Wickersham commission's report undoubtedly will furnish firewood for the coming debate. Prohibition foes have announced they were waiting for action on the bill to vent their opinions of the commission's "dry conclusion after a wet verdict." They also threatened to "talk the bill to death," since the senate again demonstrated it is overwhelmingly dry.

A separate move meanwhile was under way to enact a "liberal" re-commutation of the commission into law. Senator Royal S. Copeland, former New York health commissioner, declared he expected the restriction over the prescriptions of physicians.

The Senate's vote, 39 to 29, to begin consideration of the Howell bill satisfied the dries that they still control the senate, even with their ranks divided by political issues.

Prohibition foes objected to the bill on the ground it carried an unconstitutional "search and seizure" provision.

The provision would permit issuance of search warrants on visual evidence of liquor violations. Howell said it was a treasonable plan, since the present law permitting warrants to issue only on sworn testimony of a sale. He said this law prevented enforcement in Washington. Another provision would make every policeman a dry agent.

It was possible the west would filibuster it to death, although all the senate's leading dries — Fess (R) of Ohio, Jones (R) of Washington and Sheppard (D) of Texas—favored its enactment.

MANAGUA.—American Minister M. E. Hanna and General Douglas MacDougal, in command of the national guard here, will leave Managua tomorrow by plane for Miami. From there they will proceed to Washington to confer with the secretary of state in regards to Nicaraguan affairs.

The greatest thing the airplane has done for civilization is teach us to look up now and then.
